

- I really don't know what to do, I stared at the empty canvas all day long and painted nothing, not even a sketch.
- I'm a failure, I barely can pay my bills in the best conditions, but now...
- There is not much I can do, I should just go to sleep
- During the night → elfi appaiono
- Oh? Are they gone? Can we play?
- Hahahaha yes! It's always so fun to use the paint to fight
- But oh... they left the canvas empty, again. They must be having a hard time.
- Poor guy, I think they might need a little hand. Let's get to work
- We'll use the slingshot, are you all ready??? All hands on deck! We have to finish before sunrise!

Paintballs will fall from the ceiling. Click on the grid at the right time in order to complete the painting.

Click the paintball corresponding to the color in the reference picture when it lines up with the correct square.

Don't worry, you can recolor a square if you got the wrong colour! (check the reference picture on the right!)

Ready? Go!
